

Business Problem:

After completing some successful projects now its time for us to solve one more challenging and interesting project.

Here there requirement is to create some visuals for Human Resource (HR) analytics. Following things first we have to explain to the business before we go ahead with the actual project.

- Concept of joins
- How can we join two tables in Tableau
- Can we use Tableau prep, if yes what all benefits we will have?

Excited with the functionality business comes up with more requirements. They say that they have data in both Oracle and Excel. They want to somehow join those data and do the analysis. Try to help this demanding business so that we can expect more work in future.
